Celebrating 90 Years.

This year, Kalorik celebrates its 90th anniversary — in 2020 we honor the history and achievements of this home and small kitchen electrics company. Established in Belgium in 1930, Kalorik was one of the first manufacturers in Europe to develop the electric toaster.

A true pioneer in its industry, Kalorik is known for its commitment to superior engineering and cutting-edge innovation. Beyond the Kalorik brand, the company innovates private label appliances and has developed strategic licensing partnerships with renowned chefs and trusted global brands.

Since its inception, Kalorik's mission has been to engineer the latest groundbreaking technologies and make life and cooking faster, easier, and healthier for the modern man or woman. Nearly a century later, Kalorik remains at the forefront of innovation, evolving and adapting its products to fit ever-changing lifestyles.

On this milestone anniversary, Kalorik continues to grow its legacy and invites you to discover some of its most exciting developments yet.

The OmniCooker

Reinventing the oven with advanced, patented technology

Bakes like an oven. Sears like a pan.

Intuitive meets cutting-edge

A fusion of heat conduction and heat radiation technologies cooks food faster than a pan or oven. Features a double-coated nonstick pan.

Smart technology, foolproof cooking

Perfectly sear, bake, and pan fry your favorite foods — with no stirring or flipping required. Glass door opens automatically when food is ready.

Versatile cooking

Opens flat to a 180° angle to double your cooking surface and prepare more food at a time.
