Glassware with soul and function

Glassware for the home and everyday use. Decorative and functional crystal, suitable for a midweek evening in the suburbs yet at the same time fit to grace a formal banquet.

Kosta Boda's range offers everything from glass tableware and homeware items to art. All created by our well-known designers and skilled craftsmen.

You will find glassware to suit any occasion, for yourself or as a gift!

The history of Swedish glasswork

Kosta was founded during a period of Swedish History known as the age of freedom, when the country was gradually recovering from the effects of the disastrous wars it had embarked upon at the beginning of the eighteenth century. The age of freedom was characterized by a new spirit of optimism which infused both public and private life and inspired numerous ventures of all kinds. Cultural and scientific academies were established, government became progressively more democratic, and new ground was broken in the arts and sciences alike.

It was during this dynamic age that a glassworks, surprisingly modern for its time, was founded by two far-sighted entrepreneurs in what is now the village of Kosta. With the help of skilled craftsmen brought in from abroad, the new enterprise was soon on stable ground.

Today Kosta is a glasshouse with its roots deeply embedded in the village and surrounding countryside. As a company it has lived long; and it is still proudly independent and capable of surviving for many years to come.

For over two hundred and seventy years that have passed since Kosta's foundation, courage and determination have been the hallmarks of those who have worked there. Cooperation, stubbornness, dexterity, craftsmanship, inventiveness and artistic flair are other qualities which have helped Kosta survive.

Kosta Boda designs are collected by individuals and museums and showcased in exhibits and public installations the world over. A few of the American museums that own or have shown Kosta Boda designs include the American Craft Museum, Cooper-Hewitt Museum, Corning Museum of Glass, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, as well as the Toledo Museum of Art in Ohio and the Rockford Museum of Art in Illinois.

With playful and bold designs, Kosta Boda's products are a natural addition to your home décor. Our creative designers produce expressive objects with great personality to complement any home, any room, anywhere.

With its rich personality and wide variety, Kosta Boda's range offers everything from familiar glass tableware to innovative glass design pieces. In short, you can find the perfect gift for anyone. Including yourself, of course!

ANNA EHRNER

“For me, creativity takes place in the blowing room. This is where glass is conceived, where it is fashioned and comes alive. I want to work with the glass, not against it. In my designs, I try to follow along with the melt, with the sheer power of the glass, although I try at the same time to identify the simple and the subtle.”

Anna Ehrner is experimental and stylistic in her expression. Her work is characterised by minimalistic yet powerful design language. Coloured lines inside the glass are a recurring feature for Anna Ehrner.

Brük.

EVERYDAY ELEGANCE. DESIGNED IN SWEDEN.

This is Bruk, the new colorful collection designed by Kosta Boda in Småland, Sweden. Inspired by nature, designed in a beautiful symbiosis of function and form. Made with ultimate precision to last and spark joy through many and any occasion. These items are made for you to use, every day, made to feel good in your hand, made with great attention to detail and longevity.

The word Bruk stems from the Swedish word “to use” but is also a link to the special place where it all started – The village of Kosta in Småland with its old glassworks factory, surrounded by black lakes, deep forests and beautiful nature. More than 270 years of collective experience and a tradition of craftsmanship, creating durable and high quality products. The Bruk collection is dishwasher safe, stackable and can contain both hot and cold content.

A black and white portrait of Åsa Jungnelius, a woman with short, dark hair styled upwards. She is wearing a black turtleneck sweater and a long, thin chain necklace. The background is a light, textured wall. The image is framed by a red vertical bar on the left and a white border on the right and bottom.

"My first aim is to create glass that tells a story. Then I use aesthetics as a way of depicting the objective world in my own subjective manner. Often, I use stereotypical artifacts as a model or reference in order to highlight or destroy the myth and its significance. As for glass itself, I love its glitter and shiny, hard surfaces, especially as a contrast to other materials."

Åsa Jungnelius was born in Stockholm and has been retained by Kosta Boda as a designer since 2007. She is fascinated by the way the value of an object is created and what it conveys about us and our world. She is continually challenging the establishment by questioning the structural norms of society. The resulting creations are razor sharp comments. Åsa Jungnelius art spans a wide spectrum, covering issues such as aesthetic hierarchies, fashion, shopping, decadence and construction of gender.

A black and white portrait of Ulrica Hydman-Vallien, a woman with shoulder-length dark hair and bangs, wearing a textured, high-necked sweater. She is looking slightly to the right of the camera with a gentle smile. The background is a soft, out-of-focus landscape.

“Desire, energy, passion – I can love and hate all at the same time. I’m both argumentative and totally committed. With glass, everything is possible. It’s immediate, intense, demanding; never is it just plain old glass. I use it to paint on and tell tales. I have no rules, and I allow my instinctive feelings to take me wherever they want.”

Ulrica Hydman-Vallien is one of the world’s most famous glass artists. Ulrica Hydman-Vallien paints dramatic, yet humorous designs with a free spirit and unrestrained energy. Her breakthrough collection, Open Minds, is more popular than ever and available in new colours.

POPPY

Design Kjell Engman • 2014

“The Poppy is associated with Demeter, the Greek goddess of fertility and the harvest. My inspiration comes from the moment the poppy opens up and spreads its seeds across the countryside. The colours symbolize the various play of colours in rain, frost, daylight and sunshine. The incredible shape, with its uneven edges and texture, was a bit of a challenge to create in glass.”

BERTIL VALLIEN

"I like working with themes. They're like maxims that might be used to set off a whole chain of events. Glass offers opportunities like no other material. It has everything. It has an inner power of suggestion; it has light, heat and cold. Interior depths have always appealed to me more than the outer surface. For me, the blowing room is the centre of everything. It's like ladling matter out of a volcano and watching the glowing lava turn to ice. Knowing the exact moment at which to capture a shift of light or expression and wrench the secret from the glass is what it's all about."

Bertil Vallien has worked at Kosta Glassworks since 1963 and made himself world famous both as a designer and glass artist. He is internationally renowned, holds several design and art awards, and his work is represented in the most prestigious museums around the world.
